MONDAY, JULY 16, 1900.

FOR PRESIDENT,
WM. MCKINLEY.

FOR VICE-PRESIDENT,
THEO. ROOSEVELT.

The factional organs of the official circles make merry with their fake yarns that National Committeeman Sewall will not return to Hawaii permanently. He laughs best who laughs last. Sewall will be here and will stay dear brethren, and will remain the national representative of the Republican party in Hawaii.

REPUBLICANS AND MR. DOLE.

The Bulletin regrets the inability, real or assumed, of its Republican contemporary to interpret with proper understanding the position taken by this paper towards the appointments made by Governor Dole to the Boards of Registration. If parties are to be maintained in the Hawaiian Territory on American lines, if political effort of the people is to be exerted towards bringing future political order out of present and past political chaos, there are two pathways open to the loyal Republicans prompted by the American spirit that places party discipline and principle above the acts of individuals—the administration of Governor Dole must either be supported or repudiated. Mr. Dole is the appointee of a Republican President, placed in office to fulfill the duties and demands of a Republican administration. As such he is entitled to the unhesitating support of such citizens as consider themselves members of the Republican party and supporters of the national administration.

If, in the estimation of the local party, leaders or rank and file, Mr. Dole's administration is such as to bring discredit upon the party, of which he must of necessity stand as a representative, the only thing that remains is to manfully and forcefully repudiate his acts and give the question proper representation at the source that can call for his withdrawal.

Middle of the road Republicanism is as impossible in the party as it is with the President or the Governor. Populists and Democrats are the great straddlers of the nation and are always watchful for leaders that think they can accomplish the feat of being on both sides of the fence at the same time and thereby inspire popular confidence in their integrity of purpose. It is impossible for Republicans of Hawaii to inspire any degree of confidence in local or national circles, by first making the announcement that Governor Dole is a Republican Governor and forthwith attacking the first move he makes and assuming a critical attitude that creates nothing if not campaign material for opponents of the Republican party. The Republicans of Hawaii must accept Mr. Dole's acts as a whole or refuse absolutely, any and all responsibility for his political standing or official acts. Half hearted critical support is worse than none and has heretofore been exemplified only by the ponderous organ of the morning, which knows no steadfast loyalty to party or principle.

In making the appointments to the Board of Registration, Governor Dole, if properly quoted, makes the most remarkable plea that he was ignorant of American party custom. This being true what is the Republican party to do about it? What can the Republican Party do about it? Accept it and make the best of it is the usual party custom. Alas the Governor's ignorance and mistakes for the benefit of party opponents and at the same time declare him to be the head of the party is another method taken up locally. This is tantamount to repudiation, though the repudiator still maintains its loyalty to the party of which Mr. Dole is stated to be the official head.

The Bulletin has yet to discover the appointments incident to the organization of the Registration Boards are of sufficient import to warrant the act being depicted as a heinous crime. Nor is it an incident that should necessarily assure the defeat of the Republican party, unless Republicans themselves put arguments in the mouths of their opponents.

It is, of course, possible for the Governor to so conduct himself in his attitude toward the party as to create an open bolt. But the initiative should come from the Governor's office not the rank and file. Governor Dole is not dependent upon popular franchise for continuance in office. Criticism of him can't change the situation but it may, if carried to the extremes the Democrats would wish, serve to destroy Republican strength in the Legislature.

ONE MAN—MANY JOBS.

Editor Evening Bulletin:—Is it not against the trend of American ideas to have one man holding more than one public office at a time. On the Mainland when a man holding one office is elected or appointed to another he resigns the first before taking the second. But in Hawaii things are different. Not only can an alien sit on the Supreme Bench, be Superintendent of our Insane Asylum, Bacteriologist to the Board of Health, etc., but there is no limit to the number of offices one man may hold.

The U. S. Census Superintendent is also Superintendent of Public Schools of the Territory of Hawaii.

The Commissioner of Agriculture is also Electoral Registrar.

The Road Supervisor of Honolulu is also a Commissioner of Grades.

The Attorney General is a member of the Board of Health. The latter is in conformity with law, but the Legislature would do well to change the law.

Now, Mr. Editor, as you are the only newspaperman in the islands that has attempted to make an apology for the Governor Election Boards, I turn to you to learn why Dole, Frear & Co. take such infinite pleasure in violating all American political principles. Is it to show the Hawaiian-Americans and the Americans from the Mainland that "We are still it," and you are not "in it;" or is it because they have so few friends that they are compelled to appoint allens to office and give more than one office to one man?

A. MURRICAN.
Honolulu, July 16, 1900.

A POLICE COMMISSION.

Editor Evening Bulletin:—As soon as the Territorial Legislature meets an act should be introduced to place the police force of these islands in the hands of a Commission of three persons to be appointed by the Governor.

We need policemen in Honolulu who are able to answer the questions of strangers and our own people. We need policemen who will be able to detect crime. We need policemen who will be able to prevent the commission of crime. This is the most important of all the requirements.

The police commission will, I am convinced, give general satisfaction. The power of appointment and removal should be vested in the commission.

The commercial houses, the banks and all good citizens are deeply interested in having a police force up to date. Honolulu will soon be an American city. The old must give way to the new. Conservative though I am in my movements, the police force needs to be remodeled. The able and excellent young man at the head of the department has been a faithful officer, but he must recognize the inefficiency and weakness of the force in modern life. This matter ought to receive immediate attention.

Yours respectfully,
LEX.
